COMMUNICATIONS

The CelerPro system triggers a variety of specialized and immediate responses to the requests or actions of your client

The system requires the minimum of user interface from your side. Once a course is open for booking, the system knows what to do and your client is engaged and directed with speed and accuracy.

CelerPro lets you view your courses and clients on a Dashboard, and it lets you manage the course and even generate course certificates and registers at a click of a button!

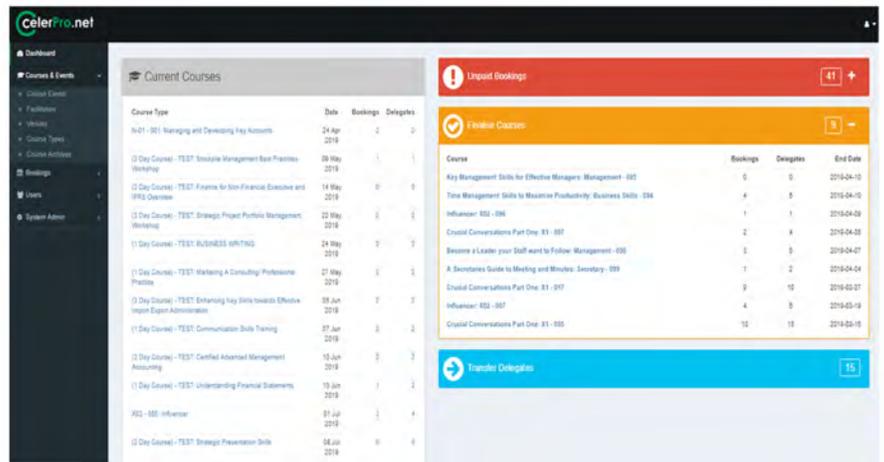

The screenshot shows a web interface for a course titled "Basics of Export Trade: A03 - 011". The course description states: "The course addresses the responsibility the Exporter and their service providers to the points of Incoterms handover and the entitlement of payments. What are the main concerns of the exporter and what is the order of importance, in other words, what are the deal-breakers?". The course price is listed as R 3,500.00, starting on 29 May 2019 at 09:00, facilitated by Jim Murrigan at the Corporate Conference Centre. A "Continue" button is visible.

CelerPro has developed a communication system, which allows quotes, bookings, reminders, proforma invoices, directions and transfers to all be automated; without you having to send a single email.
